

APPENDIX C. COMPLETING AND LODGING A WWC CHECK APPLICATION

New applications are made by completing a hardcopy form. Individual hardcopy application forms are available from authorised Australia Post outlets and bulk orders can be requested from the Department of Communities' WWC Screening Unit. Completed hardcopy applications are to be lodged at an authorised Australia Post outlet.

Applications for renewal of a WWC Check can be made via the Department of Communities' WWC Screening Unit's online renewal system or by hardcopy. If a person needs to update their name on their WWC Check, a hardcopy application is required to be lodged when the person's WWC Check is due for renewal.

When completing an application for a WWC Check, be sure to:

- Select the most appropriate category of child related work. The most common category for department employees is "category 3 – an educational institution for children" however other categories may be appropriate depending on a person's role.
- Include the school or worksite name and address of the organisation where the individual is engaging in child-related employment in full.
- Have the application signed or electronically approved by the site manager or their nominee. In practice this means:

^(e) This duty may be assigned to the relevant Coordinator Regional Operations

- Site managers are to include their name and position where required in the hardcopy application or online renewal form (e.g. Name of employer authorised representative: John Smith, Position of employer representative: Principal)

Signing or electronically approving a WWC Check application is a declaration the approver, as the employer representative, intends to engage the applicant in child-related employment. It is not a character reference for the individual.
